

Graco Introduces New High Pressure Diaphragm Pumps

December 11, 2015

MINNEAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 11, 2015-- Graco Inc., a leading manufacturer of fluid handling equipment, has just released the Endura-Flo Series of high pressure double diaphragm pumps.

The Endura-Flo 4D150 and Endura-Flo 4D350 pneumatic paint circulation and supply pumps have an industry-leading pressure ratio of 4:1. They're designed for long-lasting durability and can withstand runaway conditions better than other diaphragm pumps. The Endura-Flo has also been designed for easy installation and fast online maintenance, thus minimizing downtime.

"We wanted to have the best high-pressure diaphragm pump in the industry, so we focused our efforts on developing a superior diaphragm that lasts longer than the competition, and built a pump around it," said Bill Heuer, Worldwide Product Marketing Manager, Industrial Products Division. "This makes it an ideal choice for multiple applications and industries."

The pumps need minimal solvent to flush and they have a consistent startup pressure, making them an excellent choice for multiple color change and piggyback systems. Other features include easy access to critical components for fast online maintenance and simple configurations for custom installations.

The Endura-Flo 4D150 and 4D350 are available with DataTrak, Graco's electronic fluid monitoring system, which prevents runaway and tracks material usage.
