"The Fusion PC gun represents a new method for contractors to service guns in our industry," said Bryce Gapinski, Graco's Fast-Set Accessories Global Product Marketing Manager. "We are continually reminded that downtime on the jobsite has a large impact on profitability. We now have a gun that features the great spray performance of our Fusion gun platform, but has been specifically designed to be faster and easier to service."

One maintenance manager who tested the product reported, "We're impressed with how easy it is to spray with the Fusion PC gun. We gave the gun to sprayers who typically have gun-related issues once a week. With this new gun, our crew is able to quickly get it back into service versus spending time troubleshooting the issue and taking the gun apart." In addition, this maintenance manager has benefitted from keeping less spare parts inventory on hand due to the gun's unique disposable cartridge design.
